

Throughout the 1960's, Bob Bailey was an accomplished professional motorcycle racer. During the 1970's, he remained highly visible in the racing arena, while also beginning to work in the entertainment industry as a stunt man. His involvement in the motion picture industry continued to grow, and while working as a transportation coordinator, he identified a niche that needed to be filled. Utilizing quality recreational travel trailers which he rented to studios and production companies for location shoots, special studio events, and feature film productions, Movie Movers was born. Even today, Bob occasionally takes on special projects which keep him involved with transportation coordinators and captains.

Movie Movers founder Bob Bailey

For more than 25 years, Movie Movers has grown into a nationwide leader in providing quality location equipment to the entertainment industry, and the reputation it enjoys has been built one quality trailer at a time. Whether you are working on an independent production, a major studio release, or television show, Movie Movers has the trailers to meet your needs, offering trailers from luxurious 5th Wheels to its complete line of custom actor, multi-room, hair & make-up, wardrobe, production and school room trailers. Its services and equipment are tailored to meet the demanding needs of the studio transportation departments, and designed to satisfy the most discriminating talent's taste.

As a conscientious corporate citizen, Movie Movers has donated funds and equipment to charities such as the Susan G. Korman Breast Cancer Foundation, Fallen Riders, and Toys for Tots, all of which are dedicated to making a difference in our communities.

Movie Movers is a full service organization, offering trailer rentals, service, design and manufacturing, and retail parts sales. In order to serve an even broader client base, Movie

Movers acquired Holiday Studio Rentals in 1998 to accommodate budget-minded independent productions. With locations on both the West and East Coasts, Movie Movers can accommodate shooting locations throughout the country, as well as international locations such as Canada, the Bahamas, Mexico and beyond.

We look forward to welcoming you to the Movie Movers family, and are committed to providing you with the best equipment and service available in the industry.
